FURTHER GAINS

early today some of the copies of the official letter cancelling the strike had not been received by certain locals in the Fairmont district and the miners in some instances would not go to work until the letter was received. When these letters are received it is believed that these locals hedged on sending the miners back to work because of the absence of the official seal on the letter.

Snyder Optimistic. Sanford Snyder, international organizer of the United Mine Workers, today took an optimistic slant at the situation. He said: "Things are pretty quiet today. Everything has started off well. Some of the mines are not working, but satisfactory gains were made over the previous day. All of the miners will be back to work by Monday."

On the Monongahela. Twenty-eight cars of coal were produced in the mines in the West Virginia district along the Monongahela railway. There were 412 cars of coal loaded on the Pennsylvania division of the line on Thursday.

Six mines working in the West Virginia district yesterday were Ruth, Delmar Coal Company; Knob, Knob Coal company; Monongahela, S. D. Brady; Lehigh, Jamison Coal & Coke company; Mine 57, The Consolidation Coal company; and Parker Run, Fairmont & Cleveland Coal company.

With the Consol. Twenty-four of the thirty-three mines of The Consolidation Coal company were started today. The loading was very light considering the size of the mines. There are four additional mines at work today over the previous day.

Announcement was made today by the Clark interests that they expected that all of their miners would be back to work the same as usual on either Saturday or Monday.

Jamison Improves. Operations of the Jamison Coal & Coke company showed a good improvement today over Thursday as to the number of men reporting for work. The percentage of men at work at all of the operations, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, will range from 75 to 80 per cent, which appears to be about the best in Fairmont region.

Hutchinson Gains. Some creditable gains have been made in the operations of The Hutchinson Coal Company during the past twenty four hours. At Laureles there are 75 per cent of the men at work. Robey has 80 per cent; Girard 60 per cent; McCandlish 25 per cent; and Della, York and Harold in the Reynoldsville section, 32 per cent. All operations of the company are expected to be running full blast by Monday.

Brady Operations. Work is progressing at the S. D. Brady operations in the region. Today a number of men reported for work at Monon.

Robinson Better. "General conditions are better and it is expected that the resumption of work at the mines will take place by Monday. Everything is in good shape." This is the existing conditions with the Robinson Coal Company.

Some Big Pays Ahead. Saturday will be pay day in the region and the big pay for the weeks ending October 27 (the heaviest weekly production of the year) and October 31 will be handed out. The miners will all draw good money on this occasion and about the biggest of the year, despite the fact that no work was done on Saturday, November 1, the first day of the strike, limiting that week to five working days.

With an adequate car supply on the mines along the Monongahela division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroads there will be some big pays ahead for the miners that go to work before the winter sets in and any full in transportation can interfere with hauling or the arrival of empties.

While the strike had not proceeded to a point where the miner had been in want it is a certain thing that the miner wanted to return to work. The situation sized up at a glance can best be gathered from a conversation between two foreigners down town last week. "We want to work. Make big money while we can. Christmas comes."

Some at Grant Town. At the Grant Town plant of the New England Fuel & Transportation Company a number of men are at work today, but the percentage was small considering the large number of men employed. This is the largest mining operation in the state.

Notes of Interest Among Railroaders

Pay day is being observed by the B. & O. Railroad Company today. This is for the two weeks of October 18 and 25. The lack of coal transportation will cut into the next pay check of B. & O. employees.

The Monongahela Railway will change its schedule on Sunday, November 23.

A. H. Crawford, Baltimore, traveling car agent, and C. J. Fellers, Baltimore, supervisor of transportation are in Fairmont today.

Today an interstate commerce commission car pulled into Fairmont conveying engineers and staff who have been over the B. & O. lines in this section.

B. and O. train was two hours late in arriving in Fairmont this morning. A freight train running ahead of the passenger train had a draw head pulled out.
